

Utah Real Estate Development Plan Competition

The Utah Real Estate Challenge (UREC) is a real estate development plan competition for collegiate, undergraduate and graduate students throughout the state of Utah. The competition fosters the understanding of real estate development at the college and university level by giving students a chance to strategize, organize and present a real estate development plan to a panel of judges.

The UREC provides teams with educational forums, mentors, and other resources to prepare them for the competition and aid them in the creation and strategy of their real estate plan.

A grand prize of $20,000 will be awarded to the team with the most promising plan. Secondary prizes of $2,000 will also be awarded to each of the other finalist teams. The award announcements will be presented at a special banquet held on April 23, 2009.
